

A BILL FOR AN ORDINANCE

AMENDING CHAPTER 16 OF THE REVISED ORDINANCES OF HONOLULU 1990,
AS AMENDED, RELATING TO THE BUILDING CODE.

BE IT ORDAINED by the People of the City and County of Honolulu:

SECTION 1. Purpose. The purpose of this ordinance is to require all new building construction to meet minimum LEED standards of environmentally sensitive design and construction.

LEED is a rating system established through a national consensus-based approach by the U.S. Green Building Council, a non-profit building industry organization based in Washington, D.C., to define green building practices by establishing a common nationwide standard of measurement. LEED provides a complete framework for assessing building performance and meeting sustainability goals. By adopting progressive LEED standards, the City and County of Honolulu will require integrated, whole-building design practices, energy and water efficiency, and indoor environmental quality.

SECTION 2. Chapter 16, Revised Ordinances of Honolulu 1990, is amended by adding a new article to be appropriately designated by the revisor of ordinances and read as follows:

“Article __. Adoption of Green Building Standards

Sec. 16-__1 Definitions.

As used in this article, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

“Appropriate LEED rating system” means the particular LEED rating system that applies to a specified type of building.

“Green Building Council” means the United States Green Building Council, an organization that has developed and published the LEED rating system to measure the energy and environmental performance of a building.

“LEED” refers to the series of Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) rating systems developed by the Green Building Council.

 - (2) The standards and procedures under which the director may approve full or partial waivers of Section 16-__3 when compliance would be
